Retirement Seminars

Join the Human Resources staff for the ABP or PERS retirement seminar to learn how to make a smooth transition to retirement. Topics will include pension/distribution payout options, retiree health benefits, Medicare, life insurance, and other retirement areas of discussion. All are welcome to attend; whether you are planning on retiring in the near future or just want to better understand what you will be entitled to when you are ready. Please RSVP your attendance by calling ext. 6475 or emailing Roxanne Huertas.

Thursday, January 28th
ABP: 9:00am – 11:00am
PERS: 1:30pm – 3:30pm
Campus Center, South BC

BULLETIN BOARD

PTL Professional Development Fund
One component of the AAUP-AFT collective negotiation agreement is the Professional Development Fund for part-time lecturers. The Office of the Senior Vice President for Academic Affairs is now ready to accept applications for use of this Fund. Requests for funding should follow a specific format and will need to be submitted in the form of an email to Nancy Carvalho no later than February 1, 2016. More information regarding the format and parameters of the applications can be found on the AAUP-AFT website.

ELS Language Center Seeking Host Families
The ELS Language Center at Rutgers University-Camden is seeking homestay host families for incoming ELS students. ELS students are excited about learning English and American culture. A gracious, warm, and secure family home improves their chances for academic success and heightens intercultural understanding. Host families receive a monthly stipend of $900. For more information or to participate, you may reach Just Like Home at 301-649-2389 or email admin@justlikehome.com. The attached flier has additional details. Elizabeth Atkins, Associate Dean, International Programs, may be reached on campus: atkins1@camden.rutgers.edu.

Camden County Library Introduces Hoopla
Starting December 15th, the Camden County Library will begin offering Hoopla, an online service for eBooks, Audiobooks, Movies, Music, and Comics/Graphic Novels. Anyone with a valid Camden County library card in good standing will be able to instantly borrow items (with no waiting lists!) via Hoopla 24/7 using most devices or computers with an internet connection. Check-out times will be similar to borrowing physical items from the library and borrowed items are automatically returned! As a reminder, all Rutgers-Camden faculty and staff are welcome to obtain Camden County Library cards. Those who live outside of Camden county can obtain a renewable 1-year card by providing proof of name and address and a current RUID or paystub. The Nilsa Cruz-Perez branch of the Camden County library is located 301 North 5th St.

We hope that those of you able to attend the Chancellor’s annual holiday reception enjoyed it! In case you missed it, please be sure to congratulate Scott Owens, Associate Director Alumni Relations, on his big win in the ugly holiday sweater contest. Also announced were the following winners of the annual decorating contest: honorable mentions – School of Nursing, Department of Computer Science & Physics, and The Walter Rand Institute; Creativity - School of Social Work; Most Ingenious Use of the “Rutgers 250th” Theme – Center for Learning and Student Success; and Overall Best in Show – Faculty of Arts and Sciences Dean’s Office. On behalf of the Human Resources Office, we wish all faculty and staff a happy and safe holiday season!
