Rutgers University-Camden Relay for Life

This March, Rutgers University-Camden will host our very first Relay for Life. Relay for Life is an event held world-wide to raise money on behalf of the American Cancer Society which is used for education, prevention, research funding and services towards all types of cancers. Please review some of the attachments or the event website to learn more!

There will be many departments and groups on campus participating in the event! We hope you’ll join us on the Rutgers University-Camden Faculty and Staff team and help us in our efforts to raise funds and make this first time here at RU-Camden successful!

The American Cancer Society Relay For Life movement is the world’s largest fundraising event to end cancer, uniting communities across the globe to finish the fight. Dollars raised by more than four million Relay participants in more than 20 countries help the American Cancer Society save lives by supporting education and prevention efforts, funding groundbreaking cancer research, and providing free information and services for people with cancer who need them.

At a Relay For Life event, teams camp out at local schools, parks, or fairgrounds and take turns walking or running around a track or path. Each team is asked to have a representative on the track at all times, while entertainment, music, and fun activities keep things lively. Symbolizing the battle waged around the clock by those facing cancer, the overnight event lasts up to 24 hours. Teams raise money prior to the event, and then celebrate their fundraising efforts while honoring survivors and remembering those lost to cancer with ceremonies during the event.
